SIR JOHN GAGE, K.G., of Firle, Sussex, a distinguished soldier and statesman, whose services are thus detailed in an ancient MS. by his 3rd son Robert. "Sir John Gage, Knt. who was, after his father's death, in ward to W. Stafford, Duke of Buckingham, and after his marriage to my mother, dau. of Sir Richard Guldeford, was preferred by the said duke to HENRY VIII.'s service, and distinguished himself at the siege of Terovene, was thereupon made captain of the castle of Calais (usually called Guysnes), shortly after was sent for home, and knighted, and made of the privy council, vice-chamberlain, and captain of the guards; few years after, for services done on the borders of Scotland, at his return, was made comptroller of the household, and chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster in one day. In a few days after he was made constable of the Tower of London, and, the next St. George's feast, knight of the most noble order of the Garter; at the winning of Bullogne (36th HENRY VIII.), he was in joint commission with Charles, Duke of Suffolk, lord lieutenant of his majesty's camp; and for sundry services there with Sir Anthony Browne, Knt., master of the horse, was made general captain of the bands of horsemen. After the death of our sovereign lord EDWARD VI., at the coming of Queen MARY, was made her lord chamberlain. Thus, having served in all these rooms and offices truly, faithfully, and painfully, from the 1st year of our sovereign lord HENRY VIII., of famous memory, unto the 5th year of Queen MARY, untouched with any reproach or unfaithful service, at this time being 77 years of age, he ended his life, in favour with his prince, at his own house, at Firle, in Sussex." Wexford, and has issue,

1♦ RANDOLPH ALGERNON RONALD, Lord Garlies, b. 21 Nov. 1892.
2♦ Keith Anthony, b. 8 Sept. 1894.

Lineage—The Earls of Galloway descend from SIR JOHN STEWART, younger son of Alexander, 4th Hereditary Lord High Steward of Scotland (whose elder son James, 5th Hereditary Lord High Steward, was ancestor of the Royal House of Stewart). Sir John, commonly called "of Bonkyl," m. Margaret, dau. and heir of Sir Alexander de Bonkyl, of Bonkyl, co. Berwick, and was killed at Falkirk, 22 July, 1298, having had issue,

1. Alexander (Sir), of Bonkyl, ancestor of the Stewarts, Earls of Angus.
2. ALAN (Sir), received the lands of Dreghorn, co. Ayr, for his services to ROBERT the Bruce, and purchased the lands of Crookston, including the lordship of Darnley 1330. He was killed at Halidon Hill, 1333, leaving, with other issue, a son, ALEXANDER STEWART, of Darnley, who d. about 1372, leaving a third son, ALEXANDER STEWART, of Darnley, who d. about 1404, leaving an eldest son, SIR JOHN STEWART, of Darnley, knighted about 1383, and killed at Orleans 1429. From him descended the Stewarts, Earls and Dukes of Lennox, and Lord Darnley, ancestor of the Stewart Kings of England and of Scotland.
3. WALTER (Sir), of Dalswinton, received, for his services to ROBERT the Bruce, a grant of these lands which had been forfeited by the Comyns. The Barony of Garlies, conferred by ALEXANDER III. on his grandfather, Alexander, 4th High Steward, for his services in defeating the Danes at the battle of Largs in 1263, was also granted to Sir Walter Stewart by his nephew, John, Earl of Moray, to whom it had come through his mother, Isabel Stewart. He was s. by his son, SIR JOHN STEWART, of Dalswinton, who was captured at Durham 1346. He had, with other issue, a son, SIR WALTER STEWART, of Dalswinton, who left an only child and heiress, MARION STEWART, of Dalswinton, who m. 1396, SIR JOHN STEWART, elder son of Sir William Stewart, Knight Banneret (see below).
4. James (Sir), received the lands of Perston and Warwickhill, co. Ayr, from ROBERT the Bruce. He also was killed at Halidon Hill, 1333. From him descended the Stewarts, lords of Lorn and Innermeath, the Stewarts of Grantully, the Stewarts, Earls of Athole and Buchan, and the Stewarts of Appin, Ardsheal, Achnacone, Invernahyle, Fasnacloich, etc.
5. John (Sir), of Daldon, killed with his brothers at Halidon Hill, 1333. He d.s.p. according to Lord Hailes.

1. Isabel, m. Thomas Randolph, Earl of Moray, and left issue.

The direct ancestor,

SIR WILLIAM STEWART, Knight Banneret about 1385, figures in records indifferently as "de Jedworth," "de Tevidale" and "de Foresta," i.e., of Selkirkshire. He was clerk of the Audit to the King, Sheriff of Teviotdale, and sometime Ambassador to England. He was a member of the General and Special Councils of the Kingdom, and one of the "wyse men and leal" chosen to advise the Duke of Rothesay when appointed Lieutenant or Regent for his father Robert III. He is mentioned by Froissart among the Scottish leaders at Otterburn in 1388, and was killed by Hotspur, when a prisoner, after the battle of Homildon, in 1402. He had a grant of the lands of Abercorn from the Earl of Douglas, and those of Minto from Sir John Turnbull "out with the sword," his grandfather or uncle. Sir William is said by some to have descended from Sir John Stewart, of Daldon (see above), but the oldest and most authentic accounts, supported by the evidence of the family arms and the many acknowledgments of relationship (quoted in the text) between his descendants and those of Sir John Stewart, of Darnley (who was killed 1429), point to a direct descent from the Darnley line. He was probably a younger son of Sir Alexander Stewart, of Darnley (by his wife, the sister of Sir John Turnbull, of Minto), and brother of Sir John Stewart, of Darnley, above-mentioned great-grandson of Sir Alan Stewart (see above). Sir John bore the fesse chequy surmounted of a bend, while Sir William bore the same arms with the bend engrailed as the usual mark of cadency. Sir John Stewart bore the cognizance of the Turnbulls, the bull's head erased, as his crest, and Sir William in authentic charters is called nepos, by the chief of the Turnbulls. His elder son,

SIR JOHN STEWART, of Dalswinton and Garlies, in right of his wife, m. (contract dated 17 Oct. 1396), Marion, only child and heiress of Sir Walter Stewart, of Dalswinton (see above). He was captured with his father at Homildon Hill 1402, but, regaining his liberty, joined the Scots army sent to assist the Dauphin of France, and fell in the wars with England in 1419-20. By his wife (who m. 2ndly about 1422, Sir John Forrester, of Corstorphine), Sir John had issue, a son,

SIR WILLIAM STEWART, of Dalswinton and Garlies, who, after much opposition from other relatives of Sir John Turnbull, obtained possession of the lands of Minto in right of his grandfather Sir William Stewart, Knight Banneret. He was living in the year 1479, and had issue,

1. ALEXANDER (Sir), his successor.
2. Thomas (Sir), of Minto, ancestor of Lord Blantyre.

Sir William was s. by his eldest surviving son,

SIR ALEXANDER STEWART, of Garlies, ambassador to England 1485, fought for JAMES III at Sauchieburn 1487, was designated in his father's lifetime Alexander of Garlies, which continued to be the chief title of the family till they were made Earls of Galloway. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Archibald Douglas, of Cavers, heritable sheriff of Teviotdale. He d. about 1500, having had issue,

1. John, of Dalswinton, in 1477 m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir John Shaw, of Haylie, and d.s.p., vitâ patris.
2. ALEXANDER, his heir.
3. Archibald, ancestor of the STEWARTS of Barclye and of Fintalloch, and Stewart, Bart., of Fort Stewart, co. Donegal.
1. Agnes, m. John, 4th Lord Maxwell
2. Janet, m. Sir John Dunbar, of Mochrum, and had issue.

Sir Alexander was s. by his eldest surviving son,

ALEXANDER STEWART, of Garlies, styled of Grenan in his father's lifetime was in great favour with JAMES IV., and fell with his royal master at the fatal battle of Flodden, 9 Sept. 1513. He m. Elizabeth Kennedy (supposed of Blairquhan), and left by her one son,

SIR ALEXANDER STEWART, of Garlies, b. about 1507-8, was one of the prisoners taken at the rout of Solway, in Nov. 1542, by Matthew Stewart, Earl of Lennox, who, in an authentic letter, calls him his "nere Kinsman." He appears to have been released, in 1543, on giving his son and heir ALEXANDER, as his hostage. He m. 1st, before 1521, Katherine, dau. of Sir James Crichton, and 2ndly, Margaret, dau. and heir of Sir Patrick Dunbar, of Clugston, and by her, who d. before 1552, had issue,

1. ALEXANDER STEWART, the younger, of Garlies, who was a personage of great bravery and spirit. He was chosen by the Earl of Lennox as his champion (because, according to Hollinshed, he was a Stewart and his kinsman) to accept a challenge by the famous Sir William Kirkaldy, of Grange, governor of Edinburgh Castle for the Queen; but Sir William evaded the rencontre, from caution, not from fear, because he deemed his life at that time of the utmost consequence to his sovereign. Alexander Stewart was appointed commissioner for the Kirk of Nithsdale, and was a member of the convention or parliament that met in 1560. He was knighted when Lord Darnley (who calls him his cousin) married Mary, Queen of Scots, adhered firmly to the interest of JAMES VI. in his minority, and was slain with the Regent Lennox at the surprise of Stirling in 1571, in the lifetime of his father. By his wife Catherine, dau. and co-heir of Lord Herries, of Terregles, he left issue,
   1. ALEXANDER, successor to his grandfather.
   1. Agnes, m., 1577, Andrew Agnew, of Lochnaw, and
   2. Elizabeth, m. 1st, 1582, William Maxwell, of Carnsalloch, 2ndly, John Johnstone, of Newbie, and 3rdly, Samuel Kirkpatrick.
2. John, d. 1637, ancestor of STEWART of Physgill, and other families (see MACTAGGART-STEWART, Bart.).
1. Margaret, m., Patrick M'Kie, of Lurg.

Sir Alexander m. 3rdly, Katherine, dau. of Walter Stewart, of Barclye, and by her he had, 1. Anthony, m. Barbara Gordon, heiress of Clary; 2. Robert, m. Mary Stewart, heiress of Cardonald; 3. William, of Bargrennan; and Helen, m. William Gordon, of Murefad, ancestor of Viscount Kenmure. Sir Alexander d. before 1595, and was s. by his grandson,

SIR ALEXANDER STEWART, of Garlies, who was in great favour with JAMES VI., who knighted him in 1590 at the coronation of his consort, Queen ANNE of Denmark. Sir Alexander m. 1st, Christian, dau. of Sir William Douglas, of Drumlanrig, and 2ndly, the Lady Elizabeth Douglas, dau. of David, Earl of Angus, and widow of John, 7th Lord Maxwell (Earl of Morton), but by her (who m. 3rdly, circa 1598, John Wallace, of Craigie, co. Ayr, and d. 1637) had no issue. He d. 6 Oct. 1596, leaving issue by his 1st wife,

1. ALEXANDER, his heir.
2. William, of Mains, m. Barbara, dau. and heir of James Stewart, of Burray, Orkney. He was ancestor of STEWART, Bart., of Burray (extinct), and other families settled in Ireland and England.
1. Helen, m. John Douglas, of Stanhouse.
2. Jane, m. James Kennedy, of Culzean, whose dau., Egidia, m. Sir John Grierson, of Lag.
3. Nicolas, m. John Dunbar, of Mochrum.

His elder son,

SIR ALEXANDER STEWART, 1st Earl of Galloway, a man of great talent, loyalty, and integrity, who, after receiving the honour of knighthood, was elevated to the peerage, 19 July, 1607, by the title of Lord of Garlies, and upon 19 Sept. 1623, his lordship was advanced to the EARLDOM OF GALLOWAY (with remainder to his heirs male bearing the name and arms of Stewart), when he was sworn of the privy council of JAMES VI. The king in the Grant states that it was well known to him that Sir Alexander was "descended from the ancient and illustrious house of Lennox," of which, through his father, Lord Darnley, King James was himself the chief. The earl was afterwards a stanch adherent of CHARLES I. and of his privy council. He m. 16 Oct. 1600, Grisel, dau. of Sir John Gordon, of Lochinvar, ancestor of Viscount Kenmure, and d. in 1649, having had two sons and a dau.,

This patent, however, was cancelled 7 June, 1632, before it had passed the Great Seal. His lordship was a firm adherent of the Stewarts; and when, in 1654, Oliver Cromwell gave an act of indemnity to the Scots, this Earl, for his attachment to the royal family, was fined £4,000. He, however, lived to see the Restoration, and came into great favour with CHARLES II. He m. 1642, Nicolas, dau. of Sir Robert Grier or Grierson, of Lag, M.P., in 1639, and had issue,

Lineage—The name of Canning is derived from the manor of All Cannings, in Wiltshire, at which the family was originally seated, and the senior line continued, until it terminated in co-heiresses in the time of Henry VII. The first on record is Richard de Kanynges, who filled the office of priest at Little Cheveril in 1299; another is John de Kanynges, who became Abbot of the Monastery at Abingdon, his elevation being confirmed by Edward II.; and the next is a younger son,

Robert Canynges, who settled in Bristol, and who founded a branch which became the most eminent family of that city during the 14th and 15th centuries. He first appears as an eminent merchant in 1322. He was father of

William Canynges, who represented Bristol in several successive parliaments, and was no less than six times mayor of that city. He d. in 1396 (will dated 2 Oct. 1396), leaving, with other issue,

John Canynge, his son and heir, who twice became mayor of

* On the 30 Sept. previously, the Gazette announced the intended elevation of his lordship to a viscounty; but he died before the patent passed.

Bristol and once member for it in parliament. He d. in 1405, leaving by Joan Wotton his wife, with three daus., three sons,

1. JOHN, his heir.
2. THOMAS (Sir), of whom presently.
3. WILLIAM, who undertook the complete restoration of St. Mary Redcliffe Church, still the chief ornament of Bristol, and is the hero of the Rowley Poems (Chatterton). This William Canning was twice M.P. for Bristol, and to the mayoralty of that city, which had become a sort of heirloom in his family, he was elected no less than five times; he was the celebrated mayor of Bristol in the reign of EDWARD IV., and received during his third mayoralty, MARGARET of Anjou, and during his fourth, King EDWARD IV. Large sums of money having been advanced by him to aid his sovereign, EDWARD IV., it was proposed to him, by way of compensation, that he should marry a natural dau. of the King. Faithful, however, to the memory of his 1st wife, he did not listen to the proposal, and in order to evade the King's command took holy orders. He d. in 1476, dean of the college of Westbury, which he had founded.

The 2nd son,

SIR THOMAS CANNINGE, was lord mayor of London 1456. By his marriage with Agnes, the eldest dau. and co-heir of John Salmon and Eustatia his wife, dau. and co-heir of John le Marshall, he acquired the estate of Foxcote, co. Warwick, which had been vested in this family from the time of the conquest; he was s. by his son and heir,

RICHARD CANNINGE, of Foxcote, who m. Mary, dau. of Humphrey Compton, and had two sons,

2. John, ancestor of the Cannings of Todenham, co. Gloucester.

2. Edward, ancestor of the Cannings of Euston, co. Oxford.
3. Isaac, a Turkey merchant, d. at Constantinople.
4. Paul, ambassador to the Great Mogul, d. at Agra.

1. Maria, m. John Riland, of Queenton, co. Gloucester, and had issue.
2. Anne, m. 11 Aug. 1589, Thomas Rownie, of Darlingscot, co. Worcester.

The youngest son,

GEORGE CANNING, of Barton, co. Warwick, removed into Ireland in the reign of Queen ELIZABETH, obtained a grant of the manor of Garvagh, and settled there. He had also a lease from the Ironmongers' Company of their estate at Agivey, called the manor of Lizard, which did not expire until nearly 200 years afterwards; and in the Calendar of Irish State Papers for the reign of JAMES I. there is a good description given of the castle that he built for the protection of these lands. He m. Anne, dau. of Gilbert Walker, of Walford, co. Worcester, and d. 1646, having had two sons, Paul, his heir, who built the church of Agivey, but d. soon afterwards, and was s. by his brother,

GEORGE CANNING, who commanded a company within the walls of Derry during the celebrated siege of that city, and although attainted of his lands by JAMES II., was s. at Garvagh by his son, also named

GEORGE CANNING, who greatly improved his estate. He m. 1697, Abigail, dau. of Robert Stratford, and aunt of John, 1st Earl of Aldborough, and d. 1711, leaving by her (who m. 2ndly, Major Cudmore) a son,

The Viscount Gort (John Standish Surtees Prendergast Vereker, M.V.O.) of Limerick; Baron Kiltarton of Gort, co. Galway, in Ireland, lieut. Gren. Guards, b. 10 July, 1886; s. his father as 6th viscount 1902; m. 23 Feb. 1911, his cousin, Corinna Katherine, only dau. of George Medlicott Vereker, J.P. (see below).

Lineage—MAURICE, Lord of Prendergast, in Pembrokeshire, "a righte valiaunte captain," says Holinshed, was one of the Norman knights who united with Strongbow, Earl of Pembroke, in the invasion of Ireland. He landed in May, 1169, at the head of ten knights and two hundred archers, took a prominent part in the successful war which followed, and obtained an ample share of the conquered lands. In 1177, he gave his castle of Prendergast, in Wales, to the knights of St. John of Jerusalem; and eventually joining that order, was prior of Kilmainham at his death in 1205. From Gerald, his youngest son, descended the Prendergasts of Mayo, whose Irish title of MacMaurice gave name to the barony of Clanmorres, and of which family Lord Oranmore represents the Castle Macgarret branch, whilst his eldest son,

PHILIP DE PRENDERGAST, was summoned as a baron in 1206, 1207, and 1221. He m. Maude, dau. and heir of Robert de Quincy, with whom he acquired the town of Enniscorthy and constableship of Leinster. He d. 1226, leaving issue, 1. GERALD, his heir; 2. WILLIAM, of whom hereafter; and 3. David, who was in the hands of his kinsman Sayer de Quincy, Earl of Winchester, as a hostage for the loyalty of the Earl of Pembroke during the Barons' War, but was released by royal writ signed at Runnymede, 12 June, 1215, during the conferences with the barons, which resulted in the grant of Magna Charta. The eldest son,

GERALD DE PRENDERGAST, who founded the Abbey of Enniscorthy, m. 1st, Matilda, dau. of Theobald le Botiller, by whom he had an only dau., Maria, wife of John, Lord Cogan. He m. 2ndly, Matilda, dau. of Richard de Burgo, and sister of the Earl of Ulster, by whom he had likewise an only dau., Matilda, who m. Maurice de Rochfort; and dying in 1251, his estates, including forty knights' fees in Wexford and Cork, fell to their issue as co-heirs, whilst the representation of the family devolved on his brother,

WILLIAM DE PRENDERGAST, younger son of Philip, who obtained the lordship of Newcastle, co. Tipperary, from Jeffrey de Marisco, circa 1230, in exchange for other lands. By his wife Alianore, who appears to have been co-heir of William de Bermingham; he had issue, 1. John and 2. JEFFREY, of whom the former d.s.p. in 1275, when his brother,

JEFFREY DE PRENDERGAST, s. to Newcastle. Richard, Lord Slane, however, contested his right thereto; and Piers de Bermingham seized his castle of Mullough, which he recovered at law in 1276, but it was burnt by Lord Slane in the following year. He was summoned to the parliament of 1281, and fined one hundred shillings for being absent. His eldest son,

SIR PHILIP DE PRENDERGAST was involved in further litigation with Lord Slane. He d. 1303, leaving three sons, 1. JEFFREY, his heir; 2. MAURICE, whose son JOHN, though blind, eventually inherited Newcastle, and was ancestor to Viscount Gort; and 3. Sir Philip, of Drangan, co. Tipperary. The eldest son,

JEFFREY DE PRENDERGAST, m. Isolda, dau. of Piers, 3rd Lord Athenry, whose ward he had been. He was sheriff of Tipperary in 1327. To him, Baldwin, Lord Slane, gave up his claim to the manor of Newcastle, by a deed dated 13 Jan. 1311, enrolled in the Court of Exchequer in Ireland; and as this estate continued henceforth in the undisputed possession of this family, we shall at once proceed to

JAMES FITZTHOMAS PRENDERGAST, of Newcastle, who m. Eleanor, dau. of Sir John Grace, Knt. of Courtstown, and d. 3 Feb. 1575, leaving several sons, of whom, Edmond, of Tullaghmelan, was M.P. for Tipperary in 1585; whilst the eldest,

JEFFREY PRENDERGAST, of Newcastle, m. Joane, dau. of Thomas, 1st Lord Cahir, by his 2nd wife, Ellen, sister and heir of James,

He m. 2ndly, Ellen, dau. of Nicholas White, and had a dau., 1. Margaret. In 1583, being then under age, he joined, at Queen ELIZABETH'S request, in a surrender of the title and estate of Cahir to Sir Theobald Butler, the male heir of that family, to whom the Queen granted them by a new patent under which they descended to the Earls of Glengall. He d. 1 March, 1626; and Thomas, 2nd Lord Cahir of the new creation, dying soon after, without male issue, his eldest son,

JAMES PRENDERGAST, of Newcastle, claimed that barony, the legality of the surrender of 1583 being doubtful, and Eleanor Butler, the other co-heir, who m. Sir John Oge Fitzgerald, son of John, 14th Earl of Desmond, having d.s.p., which led to his being unfortunately killed in Cahir Castle, 12 Dec. 1627, by his kinsman, Edmond, 3rd Lord Dunboyne, whose wife was the heir of the deceased nobleman. He had m. Catharine, dau. of Sir John Fitzgerald, of the Decies, but d.s.p. and was s. by his brother,

EDMOND PRENDERGAST, to whom the Manor of Newcastle was confirmed, in 1639, by the Commission of Grace, with divers privileges, which were sanctioned by act of parliament in 1641; but the civil wars breaking out soon after, all his castles were dismantled, and his estates seized by CROMWELL. He d. about 1656, leaving issue, Jeffrey (whose sons, following JAMES II. into exile, were distinguished officers in the French service), and

THOMAS PRENDERGAST, of Croane, who lived to be more than 100 years of age, as appears by his tomb at Newcastle. He d. 1725, having m. Eleanor, dau. and co-heir of David Condon, the attainted chief of that once powerful sept, by whom he left, with other issue,

His son, William, fixed his residence at Castle Gresley, in Derbyshire, and founded there the priory of SS. Mary and George. About three centuries afterwards they removed to Drakelowe, in the lordship of Gresley, which has continued to be the family seat ever since, and has been in possession of the Gresleys since the time of the Conquest.

He was a zealous partizan of the League, and one of the council who offered the crown to PHILIP II. of Spain, in 1591. When HENRY IV. entered Paris, in 1594, Hamilton was arrested, but had liberty soon after to depart from Paris. He retired to Brussels, and in 1601 ventured to revisit his native country, after an absence of nearly thirty years. He found a temporary asylum at the castle of Lord Ogilvie; but in 1609, was arrested by a party of life guards, and committed to the Tower of London, where he died.

The elder son,

SIR THOMAS HAMILTON, of Priestfield, had a charter of Balbyn, Drumcairn, and Priestfield, in the year 1597. He was admitted a lord of session as Lord Priestfield in 1607, but resigned his seat on the bench to his 2nd son, the next year. Sir Thomas m. Elizabeth, dau. of James Heriot, of Trabroun, and had issue (besides daus.),

2. Andrew (Sir), of Redhouse, having m. Jean, dau. and heir of John Laing, of Redhouse. He was a lord of session 1608-37.
3. John (Sir), of Magdalene, co. Linlithgow; an extraordinary lord of session, and lord-register of Scotland.
4. Patrick, under secretary of state to his brother, the Earl of Haddington.
5. Alexander, general of artillery, who had a high command in the troops sent to the assistance of GUSTAVUS ADOLPHUS, King of Sweden, under the 1st Duke of Hamilton.

The eldest son,

SIR THOMAS HAMILTON, 1st Earl of Haddington, b. in 1563, studied the law in France, was admitted advocate in 1587, and soon distinguishing himself at the bar, was appointed a lord of session in 1592, by the title of Lord Drumcairn. He was subsequently one of the commissioners of the Treasury of Exchequer called Octavians, and king's advocate. In 1604, he was nominated a commissioner by parliament to treat of a union with England. In 1612, he was received lord-clerk-register of Scotland; and in the same year succeeded Sir Alexander Hay, as secretary of state. He was elevated to the peerage, 30 Nov. 1613, as Lord Binning and Byres, was appointed lord president of the Court of Session in 1616, and created Earl of Melrose, 20 March, 1619. His lordship m. 1st, Margaret, dau. of James Bothwick, of Newbyres, by whom he had an only dau., Christian, m. 1st, John, Lord Lindsay, and 2ndly, Robert, Lord Boyd. His lordship, with the approbation of the crown, after the death of Sir John Ramsay, Viscount Haddington, changed the title of Earl of Melrose for that of EARL OF HADDINGTON, by patent of 17 Aug. 1627, but with the precedence of the original patent. This nobleman acquired by the lucrative offices he enjoyed, one of the largest fortunes of his time, which was considerably augmented by the discovery of valuable mines upon his estates. He d. 29 May, 1637, and was s. by his elder son,

THOMAS, 2nd Earl of Haddington, b. 25 May, 1600, who m. 1st, Katherine, 4th dau. of John, Earl of Marr, by whom he had four sons and a dau.; and 2ndly, 14 Jan. 1640, Jane, 3rd dau. of George, 2nd Marquess of Huntly, by whom he left one (posthumous) dau., Margaret, m. John, 1st Earl of Kintore. The Earl of Haddington having actively espoused the cause of the Covenanters, was unfortunately blown up in the castle of Dunglass, in co. Haddington, of which he was governor, 30 Aug. 1640, with several of his kindred and adherents, by the treachery of his page, one Paris, an English boy, who also perished. He was s. by his eldest son,

THOMAS, 3rd Earl of Haddington, who m. in 1643 the celebrated and beautiful Henrietta de Coligny, eldest dau. of Gaspard, Comte de Coligny, and great-grand-dau. of the celebrated Admde Coligny, but d. in minority, s.p., 8 Feb. 1645. To prevent the junction of the two earldoms, it was contracted, however, at the period of her ladyship's nuptials with the Earl of Haddington, that the earldom of Rothes should be inherited by the eldest son of the marriage, and the earldom of Haddington by the 2nd; in consequence of which contract, Lord Haddington was s. at his demise, May, 1685, by his 2nd son,

THOMAS, 6th Earl of Haddington, bapt. 5 Sept. 1680, obtained a charter of the earldom of Haddington, 25 Feb. 1687, and was appointed also, by charter, 23 Jan. 1691, hereditary keeper of Holyrood Park. Lineage—This is a branch of the illustrious house of Hamilton, of which the Duke of Abercorn is the chief. It springs from

ALEXANDER DE HAMILTON, 2nd son of Sir James de Hamilton, Lord of Cadzow, by Janet, dau. of Sir Alexander Livingstone, of Callendar and next brother of the first Lord Hamilton who espoused the Princess MARY of Scotland. He had a charter in 1449, from Alexander, Earl of Crawford, wherein he was styled "Alexander de Hamilton, of Quhitecamp, afterwards Silvertonhill." In a charter of settlement of the Hamilton estates, granted to his brother, the first Lord Hamilton, of date 23 October, 1455, this Alexander was called next in succession after his brother's family. He left two sons,

1. JAMES, his heir.
2. William, ancestor of the HAMILTONS of Westport.

The elder son,

He d. not long after this, having greatly squandered away the family estate; and as he never was married, this branch of the family expired, and the representation devolved on the descendants of his grand-uncle, Alexander; which

ALEXANDER HAMILTON, tutor, of Silvertonhill, got from his father the lands of Goslingtown, which sometime continued to be the title of his family. He m. Catherine Hamilton, by whom he had issue,

SIR ANDREW HAMILTON, of Goslingtown. This gentleman was a faithful and loyal subject of Queen MARY, who conferred on him the honour of knighthood. HAMPTON.

The Baron Hampton (Sir Herbert Stuart Pakington), of Hampton Lovett and of Westwood, co. Worcester, and a baronet, lieut. Worcestershire yeo., late Rifle Brigade, b. 15 May, 1883; s. his father as 4th baron 1906.

Lineage—The antiquity of this family is beyond dispute; it is manifest from the foundation of the monastery at Kenilworth that it flourished in the reign of HENRY I., and it appears to have assumed the surname from one of the Pakingtons, in Staffordshire, Warwickshire, or Leicestershire, for in each of those counties we meet with lordships so designated, the proprietors of which wrote themselves anciently De Pakington.

ROBERT PAKINGTON, living in the reign of HENRY IV., was father of

JOHN PAKINGTON, recited in an office found before Robert Russel, escheator of the county of Warwick, 14 HENRY VI. He left a son of his own name,

JOHN PAKINGTON, who m. Elizabeth, dau. and heir of Thomas Washbourne, of Stanford, in the county of Worcester, and had issue, four sons,

1. JOHN (Sir), of the Inner Temple, constituted chirographe of the Common Pleas in the 24th of HENRY VII., during life, and elected, 11 HENRY VIII., Lent reader; and in the 20th of the same reign, treasurer of the society of the Inner Temple, in which year he had a grant from the king, "that he, the said John Pakington, for the time to come, shall have full liberty during his life, to wear his hat in his presence, and his successors, or of any other persons whatsoever, and not to be uncovered on any occasion or cause whatsoever, against his will and good liking; also that he shall not be appointed, called, or compelled to take the order of knighthood, or degree, state, or order of a baron of the Exchequer, sergeant-at-law, or any office or incumbrance thereto relating." In 1532, he was called to be sergeant-at-law, for which the king gave him a special discharge for taking the said degree, and having been appointed a justice of North Wales, was, in 1535, commissioned to conclude and compound all forfeitures, offences, fines, and sums of money due to the king or his father, HENRY VII. In 1542, he had a patent for justice of Brecknock, Glamorgan, and Radnor, in South Wales, during life having a grant of all the manors belonging to the monastery of Westwood, in the county of Worcester, and soon after received the honour of knighthood. The many other honours conferred upon him are too numerous to be recorded here. At the time of his death, 1560, he was seised of thirty-one manors, and of other lands that he had purchased of seventy different persons, as appears by a large book concerning his estate, which was preserved amongst the family testimonials. Sir John Pakington's wife was Anne, widow of Tychbourne, and of the family of Rolle. She d. 22 Aug. 1563. He received the honour of knighthood from Queen MARY, and on the death of his grandfather, the said Sir John Baldwin, succeeded to a great estate. He was sheriff of Worcestershire, in the 3rd of ELIZABETH. He m. Dorothy, dau. of Sir Thomas Kitson, Knt. of Hengrave, Suffolk, and dying 2 June, 1571, at Bath Place, Holborn, was conveyed in great pomp to Ailesbury, the officers of the College of Arms attending, and buried in the parish church there. He was s. by his son,

SIR JOHN PAKINGTON, K.B., of Westwood Park, Worcester, Lord Lieutenant of that county, one of the privy council, and an especial favourite of Queen ELIZABETH. The Queen first took notice of Sir John in her progress to Worcester, when she invited him to attend her court, where he lived at his own expense, in great splendour and reputation, with an equipage not inferior to some of the highest officers, although he had no greater honour than knight of the Bath, which was conferred upon him in the lifetime of his father. Sir John Pakington m. 1 Nov. 1598, Dorothy, dau. of Humphry Smith, of Cheapside, Queen ELIZABETH'S silkman, of an ancient family in Leicestershire, and widow of Benedict Barnham, an alderman of London (father by her of Alice, wife of the great Francis Bacon). SIR JOHN PAKINGTON, 2nd Bart., who at the decease of his grandfather inherited the estates, and resided subsequently at Westwood. He was elected one of the knights for Worcestershire, in the 15th CHARLES I., and when the rebellion broke out, was member for Ailesbury; and having on all occasions given proofs both of his fidelity to the crown and the rights of the subject, was entrusted by the king, in 1642, with a commission for arraying men for his service in Worcestershire, on account of which he was taken prisoner, committed to the Tower, and fined £5,000, had his estate sequestered, his house in Buckinghamshire (one of the best in that county) levelled with the ground, and such great wastes committed in his woods, that an estimate of the loss, still remaining in the handwriting of his lady, amounts to £20,348. His zeal in the loyal cause never swerved, for notwithstanding he had suffered so much for his loyalty, he had the courage to join King CHARLES II. with a troop of horse, at the battle of Worcester, and was taken prisoner there, yet was so popular, that when afterwards tried for his life, not one witness could be procured to swear against him: he was consequently acquitted and set at liberty, but was afterwards fined £7,670, and compelled for the said fine, to convey the market-house, the tolls, the court-leet, and certain grounds called Heydon Hill, parcel of the estate at Ailesbury, to Thomas Scot (who was one of the king's judges), and other trustees, for the use of the town, which they kept until after the Restoration, when, by a special act of parliament, the said conveyances were made void. Lineage—Henry Hardinge, 1st Viscount Hardinge, 3rd son of the Rev. Henry Hardinge, rector of Stanhope (see Hardinge, Bart.), was b. at Wrotham, in Kent, 30 March, 1785; he entered the British army as an ensign in 1791, and rose, through a long and brilliant career, to the very summit of his profession. He was actively engaged during the whole of the Peninsular war. He afforded valuable assistance at Busaco, the Douro, and Torres Vedras, at Badajoz, and Ciudad Rodrigo; he contributed not a little to the victory of Albuera, and we find him again at Salamanca and Vittoria, at Nivelle, Nive, and Orthes. He was wounded at Vittoria; he lost his hand under Blücher at Ligny. After the peace he filled many high ministerial offices; he was clerk of the ordnance in 1823, and secretary-at-war and P.C. in 1828; he was chief secretary of Ireland, with a seat in the Cabinet, in 1830 and 1834; he was again secretary-at-war in 1841; he became governor-general of India in 1844, and during his administration there, which lasted to Jan. 1848, occurred the war against the Sikhs, which he rendered for ever famous by a glorious campaign on the banks of the Sutlej. For that and his other services in India he was created by patent, dated 2 May, 1846, Viscount Hardinge, of Lahore, and of King's Newton, co. Derby. In Feb. 1852, Viscount Hardinge was appointed master-general of the ordnance, and on 28 Dec. of the same year, he was made the general commander-in-chief; he was raised to the rank of field-marshal 2 Oct. 1855, and he retired from public life on account of ill health in 1856. Viscount Hardinge was col. of the 57th regt. of foot; he had a cross and five clasps for the Peninsula, was a G.C.B., and was knight of four foreign orders, Prussian, Dutch, Portuguese, and Spanish. He had been present in sixteen general actions, and had medals for them. The noble viscount was a member of the House of Commons from 1820 to 1844, and he twice received the thanks of Parliament for his civil and military services. He was given an annuity of 5000*l.* by the Hon. E. I. Co., for his own life, and a pension by Parliament of 3000*l.* a-year for the lives of the next two successors in the peerage. Lineage—By an ancient pedigree in the College of Arms, it appears that the family of Luttelton, or Lyttelton, was settled at Frankley, in Worcestershire, about 1235,* when it is recorded that Thomas de Luttelton, m. Emma de Frankley, an heiress, lady of the manor of Frankley (see Cobham, V.).

Sir Thomas Luttelton, or (as with him more invariably spelt) Littleton, K.B., became one of the great law luminaries of his country, and is immortalized by one work alone, his celebrated Treatise on Tenures. In 1454, he was called to the degree of serjeant-at-law, and afterwards appointed steward of the Marshalsea of the king's household; the next year he was constituted king's serjeant, and, 13 May, 1455, rode justice of the assize in the northern circuit. Having shown some inclining to the Lancastrian party during the war of the Roses, Littleton, on the accession of Edward IV., sued a general pardon, which was granted to him, and in the 4th year of that prince's reign he was appointed one of the judges of the court of Common Pleas, when he had a grant of 110 marks out of the Customs of London, Bristol, and Hull; and moreover, 106*s.* 11½*d.* for a robe and furs, and 6*s.* 6*d.* for a summer robe. In the 15th of King Edward, he was made a knight of the Bath, with the Prince of Wales, and several persons of the highest distinction. Sir Thomas m. Joan, dau. and co-heir of William Burley of Broomscroft Castle, in Shropshire, and relict of Sir Philip Chetwynd, Knt. of Ingestre, in Staffordshire. HOPE.

Sir Alexander Hope, 15th Bart., of Craighall, co. Fife, J.P. co. Midlothian, late Bengal C.S.; b. 22 Oct. 1824; s. his brother 1898.

Lineage—The founder of the family of Hope of Craighall appears to have been

JOHN DE HOPE, who is said to have come from France in the train of Magdalene, Queen of King JAMES V. He m. Elizabeth Cummin, and left a son,

EDWARD HOPE, who was one of the most considerable inhabitants of Edinburgh temp. Queen MARY, and being a great promoter of the Reformation, was chosen one of the commissioners for the metropolis to the parliament in 1560. His son,

HENRY HOPE, a very eminent merchant, m. Jaqueline de Tot, a French lady, and left three sons, 1. Henry, from whom Sir Theodore Cracroft Hope, K.C.S.I., C.I.E., traces his descent; 2. THOMAS (Sir), 1st bart.; 3. James, ancestor of the HOPES of Amsterdam, now represented by ADRIAN ELIAS HOPE, nephew of the Right Honourable Alexander J. B. Beresford-Hope, of Bedgebury Park, Kent, M.P. for the University of Cambridge. (See BURKE'S Landed Gentry.) The 2nd son,

Sir Thomas Hope, 1st Bart. of Craighall, co. Fife, having been bred to the bar, attained great eminence in his profession. In 1626 he was appointed joint lord advocate along with Sir William Oliphant; and his colleague dying two years afterwards, he enjoyed the office alone. Sir Thomas obtained many substantial favours from the crown, and was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia, 19 Feb. 1628. In 1643, he was appointed commissioner to the general assembly of the church of Scotland, a dignity which, it is said, no commoner has since enjoyed. "He took the place proudly upon him, for the honours (crown, sword, and sceptre) were daily carried when he went out and into this assembly before him; and at preaching he sat in the King's loft." Sir Thomas m. Elizabeth, dau. of John Binning, of Wallyford, by whom he had fourteen children; three of whom were upon the bench when he pleaded as lord advocate before them; and to this circumstance tradition assigns the privilege, which that officer of the crown enjoys, of pleading covered in the supreme court of judicature, it being deemed indecorous that a father should stand uncovered before his sons. His children who reached maturity were,

1. JOHN (Sir), 2nd bart. of Craighall.
2. Thomas (Sir), of Kerse, a lord of Session 1641, ancestor of the Hopes of Kerse, barts., extinct.

Lineage—This illustrious house, so renowned in the cabinet and the field, derives its surname from the seaport of Hastings, in Sussex (the lastage of which its senior members farmed for many years from the crown), and deduces its pedigree from Robert de Hastings, Portgrave of Hastings, Lord of Fillongley, in Warwickshire, and dispensator, or steward, to William the Conqueror. The successor of this Robert was

Walter de Hastings, who became steward to Henry I., as

* Mr. William Bulkeley Hughes was the representative of an ancient line, and 19th in male descent from Llowarch Cwmmwd Menai, in Anglesey, founder of the 2nd Noble Tribe of North Wales and Powys, who flourished in the 12th century. Llowarch ap Bran was 8th in descent from Rhoderick the Great, King of all Wales. The present mansion of Plas Côch (Red Palace), spelt in some manuscripts Place Gough (Place of the Chough), and at one time called Porthamal Issa, was rebuilt 1569, by Hugh Hughes, High Sheriff of Anglesey, M.P., a Bencher of Lincoln's Inn, Attorney-General to Queen Elizabeth for North Wales, and appointed by James I. Lord Chief Justice for Ireland, but d. in London before going to that country. The ancient Court of Llys Llowarch ap Bran stood in the grounds of the present place in the 12th century, and the site is still to be seen, and interesting stones have been found there.

owner of the manor of Ashill, Norfolk, a grant from the crown, upon the condition of taking care of the naperie (table-linen) at the coronation. From this Walter descended

HENRY, LORD HASTINGS, who m. Ada, 4th dau. of David, Earl of Huntingdon, by Maud, dau. of Hugh, sister and co-heir of Ranulph, Earl of Chester (see BURKE'S Extinct and Dormant Peerage, article MESCHINES, Earls of Chester), and was s. by his only son,

HENRY, LORD HASTINGS, who, adhering to Simon Montfort, Earl of Leicester, against HENRY III., was knighted, and made governor, by that nobleman, of the castles of Scarborough and Winchester in 1264, and in the following year of Kenilworth Castle. This feudal baron m. Joane, dau. of William, and sister and co-heir of George de Cantilupe, Barons of Bergavenny; and dying in 1268, was s. by his elder son,

JOHN DE HASTINGS, Lord Hastings and Bergavenny, seneschal of Aquitaine, and, in 1290, one of the aspirants to the Scottish throne in right of his grandmother, Ada, who was niece to MALCOLM IV. and WILLIAM THE LION, Kings of Scotland. This nobleman had summons to parliament from 1295 to the time of his death. He m. Isabel, dau. of William, and sister and co-heir of Aylmer de Valence, Earls of Pembroke, by whom he had two sons and three daus.; the second of which daus., Elizabeth, m. Roger, Lord Grey de Ruthyn. His lordship m. 2ndly, Isabel, 5th dau. of Hugh Despenser, Earl of Winchester, and had two sons. He d. 9 March, 1312-13, and was s. by the elder son of the first marriage,

JOHN, LORD HASTINGS, Bergavenny and Weishford, governor of Kenilworth Castle in 1323; who d. in 1325, and was s. by his only son,

LAURENCE, who, upon the decease of his grand-uncle, Aylmer de Valence, Earl of Pembroke, s.p., was created Earl of Pembroke, by patent dated 13 Oct. 1389; a dignity that expired with John, 3rd earl, who was accidentally slain in a tournament by Sir John St. John, at Woodstock. This terminated the elder branch of the noble house of Hastings; but a younger, deriving from

THOMAS DE HASTINGS, great-grandson of Walter de Hastings, steward to HENRY I. and elder son of William de Hastings, by his 2nd wife, Ida, dau. of Henry, Earl of Ewe, laid the foundation of the present Earldom of Huntingdon. From this Thomas lineally descended

SIR WILLIAM DE HASTINGS, 1ST BARON HASTINGS, Knt., who was nominated by EDWARD IV. master of the Mints at London and Calais, steward of the honour of Leicester, and of the manors and castles of Donnington, Higham Ferrers, and Daventry; and created by the same monarch, 26 July, 1461, Baron Hastings of Ashby-de-la-Zouch, when his lordship was installed a knight of the most noble Order of the Garter. His lordship m. Catharine, relict of William, Lord Bonvile and Harington, and dau. of Richard Nevil, Earl of Salisbury, by whom he had four sons and two daus. In 1465, we find this nobleman entering into an agreement with Dame Elizabeth Grey, late wife of Sir John Grey, Knt., and heir of Edward Grey, late Lord Ferrers, that he should have the wardship of her son, Thomas, afterwards Marquess of Dorset, on whose part it was stipulated that he should, within five or six years afterwards, marry the eldest dau. of Lord Hastings that might then be living. His lordship about this time undertook, in his capacity of master of the Mint, a new coinage of gold consisting of pieces of eight shillings and fourpence sterling each, called nobles; other pieces of one-half; and a third, of one-fourth that value. For several years afterwards Lord Hastings was one of the most powerful persons in the kingdom. In 1474, he obtained a license from EDWARD IV. to impark three thousand acres of land and wood in Ashby-de-la-Zouch, and he accordingly built, at Ashby, a magnificent castle for the residence of his family, which it continued to be for two hundred years. This castle was afterwards remarkable as the temporary prison of MARY, Queen of Scots. Of his lordship FULLER says: "The reader needeth not my dim candle to direct him to this illustrious person, whom King EDWARD IV., or rather Edward Plantagenet (because more in human than in his royal capacity), so delighted in that he made him his lord chamberlain, Baron Hastings of Ashby-de-la-Zouch," etc. Lord Hastings fell a victim, eventually, to the Protector Gloucester (RICHARD III.), and was beheaded in the Tower, 13 June, 1483, when his estates were confiscated, but soon afterwards restored, partly by RICHARD and the remainder by HENRY VII., to his son,

EDWARD, 2ND BARON HASTINGS, K.B., who having m. Mary, dau. and sole heir of Thomas, Baron Hungerford, Botreaux, Moulins, and Moels, had been summoned to parliament, 15 Nov. 1482, as Lord Hungerford. By this union his lordship had a dau., Anne, who became the wife of Thomas Stanley, Earl of Derby, and after his decease, of John Radcliffe, Lord FitzWalter; and a son, his successor, at his demise, 8 Nov. 1507,

GEORGE, 3RD BARON HASTINGS and 1st Earl of Huntingdon, attended HENRY VIII., in 1513, at the taking of Terouenne and Tournay, and was created by that monarch, 8 Dec. 1529, EARL OF HUNTINGDON. His lordship m. Anne, dau. of Henry Stafford, 2nd Duke of Buckingham, and widow of Sir Walter Herbert, Knt.; and dying 24 March, 1544, was s. by his eldest son, FRANCIS, 2nd Earl of Huntingdon, K.G., who m. in 1532, Katherine, dau. and co-heir of Henry Pole, Lord Montagu, and granddau. of Margaret, Countess of Salisbury (which Margaret was dau. and sole heir of George Plantagenet, Duke of Clarence, brother of EDWARD IV.). On New Year's day, 1553, we find this nobleman presenting to EDWARD VI., in a purse of red silk, five sovereigns and eight half-sovereigns; and receiving in return a gilt cup and cover, weighing twenty ounces. His lordship d. 20 June, 1561, having had six sons and five daus.; of the youngest dau., the beautiful Lady Mary Hastings, the following circumstance is related: "John Vassilivich, Grand Duke and Emperor of Russia, having a desire to marry an English lady, was told of the Lady Mary Hastings, who being of the blood royal, he began to affect: whereupon making his desires known to Queen ELIZABETH, who did well approve thereof, he sent over Theodore Pissemskoie, a nobleman of great account, his ambassador, who, in the name of his master, offered great advantages to the queen in the event of the marriage. The queen hereupon caused the lady to be attended with divers ladies and young noblemen, that so the ambassador might have a sight of her, which was accomplished in York House Garden, near Charing Cross, London. There was the envoy brought into her presence, and casting down his countenance, fell prostrate before her, then rising, with his face still towards her (the lady with the rest admiring at his strange salutation), he said, by his interpreter, "it sufficed him to behold the angelic presence of her who, he hoped, would be his master's spouse and empress." Aberdeen; J.P. and D.L. Aberdeen; D.L. and C.C. for Huntingdon, J.P. Lineage—The Gordon family take their name from the lands of Gordon, in Berwickshire. In the end of the 12th century Gordons begin to appear as witnesses to charters by the Earls of March, or donors of patches of land, and rights of pasturage to the monks of Kelso.

Sir Adam Gordon was justiciary of Lothian in 1305 under Edward I., and sat in the English council at Westminster as one of the representatives of Scotland. Tardily joining Bruce, he had a grant of the great northern lordship of Strathbogie, forfeited by the Earl of Athole, but as Athole returned to his allegiance, possession did not immediately follow. His younger son, William, was ancestor of the Gordons, of Lochinvar, and Viscounts Kenmure. His elder son, Adam Gordon of that ilk, was father of John Gordon of that ilk, who, taken prisoner at Durham in 1346, was released 1357, had a confirmation charter of Strathbogie in 1376, as great-grandson of Sir Adam, and was, through two illegitimate sons, John Gordon, of Scudargue, and Thomas Gordon, of Ruthven, ancestor of a wide circle of Gordons in Mar, Buchan, and Strathbogie.

Sir Adam Gordon, of that ilk, who s. Sir John in or shortly before 1395, and seems to have been his brother, had a charter of the co. Berwick possessions of the family, fell at Homildon in 1402, having m. Elizabeth, Lady of Aboyne, dau. of Sir William Keith, marischal of Scotland (afterwards wife of Sir Nicholas Erskine, of Kinnoull, and 3rdly, of Thomas Somerville), and had, besides a son, John, who, surviving his father d.s.p. circa 1407, a dau. and heir,

Elizabeth Gordon, m. 1408, Alexander Seton, 2nd son of Sir William Seton, of Seton; who was possibly made a Lord of Parliament as Lord Gordon in or before 1437. They had issue, 1. Alexander; 2. William, ancestor of the Setons, of Meldrum; and 1. Elizabeth, m. Alexander, Lord of the Isles and Earl of Ross. Elizabeth Gordon d. 16 March, 1438-9, and her husband in, 1440. Their elder son, Alexander Seton, 1st Earl of Huntly, was made Earl of Huntly before 3 July, 1445, and had grants from the crown of the lordship of Badenoch and other lands in the counties of Inverness and Moray. On the death of his grandmother, Elizabeth Keith, Lady of Aboyne, circa 1437, he acquired Cluny, Aboyne, and Glenmuick, in Aberdeenshire. He m. 1st, Egidia, dau. and heir of Sir John Hay, of Tillibody, by whom he had a son, Sir Alexander Seton, ancestor of the Setons, of Touch and Abercorn; 2ndly, Elizabeth, eldest dau. of William, Lord Crichton, chancellor, by whom he had issue (who all took the name of Gordon),
